

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Tim P. Jessop, BA (Hons.), MES

Tim Jessop
Planner

Mr. Jessop holds a Master of Environmental Studies (Urban Planning) from York University. He also holds a Bachelor of Arts (Honours) degree from McMaster University where he obtained a Major in Geography and a Minor in Geographical Information System (GIS).

Mr. Jessop commenced his career working as an environmental planner for a California based company developing biomass-to-energy facilities. He coordinated the environmental permitting process and managed the public consultation requirements under multiple regulatory environments in both Canada and the United States. During his studies at York University, and for a short time after, Mr. Jessop worked as a consultant and provided project management and planning services to clients in the GTA. He has published articles in the Ontario Planning Journal and co-authored a report for the Canadian Urban Institute on green buildings.

Mr. Jessop joined Weston Consulting Group Inc. in 2011 as a Junior Planner. His responsibilities include researching and compiling information related to property development, preparing planning applications, monitoring ongoing processes, and fulfilling conditions of approval. Mr. Jessop has worked on projects throughout the Greater Toronto Area, gaining experience and knowledge of planning policies across many municipalities.
